MANGLED BY CAR WHEELS

JOHN B. KERFOOT, A BOOKKEEPER, FOUND NEAR TRACKS.

He Was Killed by a Panhandle Train Early in the Morning-The Body Identified.

The mangled remains of John B. Kerfoot, a bookkeeper for Kothe, Wells & Bauer, wholesale grocers on South Meridian street, were found yesterday morning at the corner of Cruse street and the Panhandle tracks. It is supposed that Kerfoot met his death by being struck by a Panhandle train that left the city east-bound at 3:30 o'clock. He boarded at 927 East Georgia

One of the employes of the Home brewery, while on his way to work yesterday morning just before 5 o'clock, saw the body lying alongside the track. He investigated and saw that the services of an undertaker were necessary. He telephoned police headquarters and Bleycle Policemen Trimpe and Kitzmiller were sent to the place. They called the city ambulance and the body was taken to the morgue. It was not identified until after noon, when a brother and sister It is supposed that Kerfoot was on his way home about the time the train left the city and was struck at the crossing. Both legs were entirely cut off and on the body were a number of bruises and wounds. I several feet by the train, as the body was on the east side of the crossing. The night employes of the brewery were questioned as to whether they had seen Kerfoot about the place during the night, no one seemed to know anything about him

The body was removed to Herrmann's dertaking rooms during the afternoon. Kerfoot was about forty-five years old. At one time he was chief clerk in the freight department of the Big Four Railroad. He was unmarried. He left a mother, who resides at 2222 Central avenue. She is nearly ninety years old

DANGEROUS LOOKING FIRE.

The Lyon Clothing Company Suffers a Considerable Loss.

A pedestrian passing the three-story brick building at the corner of Pennsylvania and South streets yesterday morning at 6:30 o'clock discovered smoke issuing ran across the street to the office of the salvage corps and turned in an alarm. The fire evidently had been burning for some the whole upper floor was ablaze. The department, however, succeeded in keeping the flames to the third floor and the other parts of the building were only slightly damaged. The building is used by the Lyon Clothing Company in the manufacture of clothing. The third floor is used as a cutting room. A great amount of stock was on the floor ready to be sent down stairs to the sewing room. The greatest loss was on the nated from spontaneuous combustion. The loss on the stock and building will amount $800. The building is owned by Judge Lamb. The stock on the lower floors was saved from damage by smoke and water by the salvage corps.

PROTECTED HER HUSBAND.

After She Had Been Assaulted Mrs.

Kelly Tried to Keep Her Place. John Kelly went to the place where his wife worked last night and insisted that she accompany him on a street-car ride. Seeing that her husband was not sober she declined to go. He then assaulted her, cutting a deep gash on the nose and inflicting several ugly wounds on the forehead. When Bicycle Policemen Trimpe and Kitzmiller arrived Mrs. Kelly, bleeding from her wounds, told the police that no trouble had taken place in the house. Trimpe asked her how she had received her injuries and she then confessed that her husband had beaten her. She declined to tell anything about the case. The woman for whom Mrs. Kelly worked offered to enlighten the policemen and then Mrs. Kelly, while wiping the gore from her face, said: "Go shead now and tell all you know." Kelly was caught hiding in a wood shed in the rear of the house. He became very surly with the policemen and declined to tell where he lived. He said that it would cause his mother much grief to know that he was arrested.

BUSY BURGLARS.

Valuables Taken from a Cigar Store-

George Wysong Robbed.

Goldle Smith's cigar store at 804 Massachusetts avenue was entered by thieves yesterday morning and in addition to stealing $40 in money, the marauders took two watches and two gold chains set with diamonds, valued at $400. Entrance was gained by prying off the grating over the cellar in front. Smith closed his place at midnight Saturday and the robbery, he thinks, occurred between that time and yesterday morning.

The residence of George Wysong, 1315 Droadway, was also entered by thieves yesterday morning. Twenty dollars was stolen and the thief was frightened away as he was opening a drawer in a sideboard. A description of the man was obtained and it is thought he was a colored man. In escaping he jumped through a side window that he had entered.

CLOSE OF MEETINGS OF THE HOLI-NESS ASSOCIATION.

The Crowd Was Large and the Enthusiasm of the Worshipers Ran High.

THE COMMERCIAL SPIRIT NOTICE-ABLE ON THE GROUNDS.

Bethany Assembly Also Attracts a Large Sunday Crowd and the Day Is Enjoyably Spent.

Sunday was a lively day at Acton Park, and the last day of the Holiness Association was greatly enjoyed by the members and visitors. All day the big bell sent its chimes over the grounds calling persons to the tabernacle, where the closing meetings of this year's camp were being held. From early in the morning until a late hour ast night the old wooden church was the scene of revival services.

The morning was passed in various ways by the inhabitants of the park. Sunday newspapers were again forbidden, but the persons who had been at the park the week | a central point in the State. before profited by experience, and many a man was seen slyly entering the grounds with a paper sticking out of his coat. It was very warm in the forenoon, and the more worldly sought the largest shade tree or an inviting hammock. There were rumors of a fishing party, but upon second though the young woman who had mentioned it blushed and explained that parties in question had gone to call on a sick cousin, and those present were too polite to press the subject any further. Dr. C. J. Fowler, of Haverhill, talked in the mornng, and at the close of his sermon the dining room bell caused the guests to seek the room from which came pleasant odors and toward which even the most plous of the churchgoers were rapidly walking.

LARGEST CROWD OF SEASON. The afternoon at Acton Park was exceedingly interesting. Probably the largest crowd of the season was on the grounds, and many strange scenes transpired during the period when the camp takes on its gayest dress. As soon after dinner as he could the young farmer boy brought his best girl to the park for a day of pleasure. In most cases harvest is over, and there was the biggest crowd of young country lads and maidens that has been at the park this year. Clad in their bright yellow dresses, and with all their best finery the fair rural maids added much to the atmosphere of the old camp meeting ground. Nor did the sterner sex play any small part in making the park gay. Proudly smoking was evident that the man had been dragged | their "stogies" (the grocery at the hotel was "wide open," and everything was sold yesterday) they made the quiet camp grounds look like there was really something doing. The young men who were there to see what was going on were also in evidence with their bright red neckties

The ice-cream parlor and grocery at the hotel was a busy place and all day there was a steady stream of people going into the little ice-cream room, where many an insophisticated farmer lad spent his week's wages while he sat talking to some fair maiden and blushed as she made some comdimentary remark about him. The clerk the forbidden weed to all who desired to buy. It was the last Sunday of the assembly and everything was as wide open as in city prior to election. And so the day passed for those not attending the meetings. Just as the afternoon train arrived the storm, which visited this city, also caused the inhabitants of Acton to seek shelter and cooled the atmosphere so that when the rain was over the grounds were more attractive and pleasant than before. HAD LARGE AUDIENCE.

The Rev. Luther Robinson, of Wilmore Ky., preached in the afternoon to one of the largest crowds since the meetings began. His talk aroused his hearers very much. by the Rev. C. F. English, of Ohio. Following this came the usual altar service of the camp meeting. At the close the congregation joined in the farewell song, "God Be with You Till We Meet Again," which announced the end of the Holiness Association's camp assembly. However, the camp rang with the songs and shouts of the members until late. It is not likely that the Holiness Association will again hold a camp meeting at Acton Park. While it is probable that they will not want the grounds next year, there are many who would strongly object to letting them have the place again. Many of the statements of the leaders of the association have caused the cottagers in the park to not want them there next season. However, the prevailing opinion seems to be against allowing them to have the grounds again and if the present plan of the Holiness Association is carried out to buy grounds near this city it is very likely that they will not want the park.

and Franklin. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. BETHANY PARK, Ind., Aug. 10 .- The third Sunday of Bethany Assembly dawned clear and bright, and the park soon presented an animated scene, people driving in from the country, walking in from the neighboring village of Brooklyn and coming on the early trains. The early morning prayer meeting was led by H. G. Bennett, of Carbondale. The Sunday-school at 9 o'clock, under the leadership of James Small, of Columbus, was one of the best ever held at Bethany, there being over three hundred scholars present, divided into seven classes.

A. B. Houze, of Little Flatrock; C. R. Hudson, Franklin; Mrs. Roy L. Brown, Liberty, Ind.; H. A. Turney, Worthington; Quincy Short, Bedford; Miss Josephine Maxwell, Martinsville; John Baptist, Armenia, and B. J. Radford, of Eureka, Ill.,

Radford, of Eureka, Ill., gave an interesting address on the subject, "The Church," after which the Lord's supper was observed, with C. R. Hudson and B. M. Blount presiding at the table.

LOWERING CLOUDS HAD LITTLE EF-FECT ON EXCURSIONS.

The Parks Well Patronized and Naturally Many People Were Caught Without Shelter.

"It is simply a question of a short time when the Union Station will have to be enlarged, as we will be unable to handle the crowds," said Station Master Lewis last evening, when thousands of people were in the train sheds and station waiting for the departure of their trains. The crowds brought to this city yesterday on regular and excursion trains were estimated to be larger than on the previous Sunday, and large crowds took advantage of the excursions out of town. Station Master Lewis estimated that fully 25,000 people passed through the gates at the Union Station during the day, and the most congested times were in the morning, when the special trains began arriving, and in the evening between 5 and 7 o'clock, when the excursions were scheduled to leave. Board Will Hold Session in Chicago and Consider the Different Propositions.

The army board concluded its work here yesterday. The board spent a busy week looking at the different tracts of land offered for a military post. Yesterday morning land in the neighborhood of Lawrence was viewed. A tract northeast of Millersville, lying between the L. E. & W. Railroad and Fall creek, was also visited. This tract includes the West, Hunter and Lemon farms, and is the tract in which George W. Spahr is interested.

The members of the board will hold sessions in Chicago while going over the different propositions they have received. When their report is ready they will submit it to the secretary of war, with recommendations. Colonel McCaskey is of opinion that if it is decided to buy a site and build a post in this locality, action will be taken at once. As far as known the board expressed no preference for any of the land visited. Colonel McCaskey, in speaking of The Labor day committee yesterday what they had seen, expressed himself as pleased with all of the land, and said that any of the tracts would make an admirable military post.
